Massachusetts League of Community Health Centers

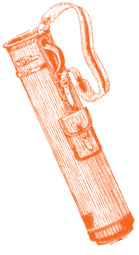

The Massachusetts League of Community Health Centers ("the League") is a non-profit, statewide association representing and serving the needs of the state's 50 community health center organizations, which provide primary and preventive care to some 889,000 residents. The League provides a broad range of technical assistance to our community health center members, including recruitment of clinicians, information technology development, clinical and administrative staff training, and management of quality care initiatives across all health centers.

Commonwealth Purchasing Group (CPG) is a group purchasing organization providing shared services and strategic sourcing solutions for over 475 health centers and related non-profit organizations nationwide. Members have saved $200 million since its inception in 1998. It was created to address rising prices, increased demand for services and tighter budgets among the health center industry. With only a few original members, CPG has grown exponentially to create one of today's premier community health center group purchasing organizations.
